Gus

My sincerest thanks and I owe you a million. My fortunate and continued success is due to the relationships and contacts I have nurtured over the years. From my partners, to my lawyers, accountants, key employees, bankers, colleagues and especially my wife, I would be alone and nowhere without all of them.

How you came thru for me, my company and my family today will not be forgotten and I commit to you that I will be a friend you can call on at any time for anything. I will always have to keep your pricing in line by checking the market as it is my job to do that but it would take a VERY significant cost savings to earn my business away from you. You have earned a place on my list of key people responsible for my continued success, this is not a compliment I hand out to anyone, I truly value your service and friendship.

I will be an evangelist for you and your agency always because you have really earned it. Feel free to share this email with your team or anyone else who helped me close my deal today, the purchase was completed today thanks to your great service.

A World Of Thanks
